96TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE THE INDIAN CITIZENSHIP ACT

June 2, 2020

Established the full U.S. citizenship of the indigenous peoples of the United States, called "Indians" in this Act. The 14th Amendment defines as citizens any persons born in the U.S. and subject to its jurisdiction, the amendment had been interpreted to not apply to Native people. The act was largely adopted in recognition of the thousands of Native Americans who served in the armed forces during the First World War.
