

Bulletin policy

We publish News, Scholarly and Research articles and welcome contributions of any type. Topics of interest include, but are not restricted to, items in the following list.

News

- News of members. Don't be shy about sending a photo! Let us know of honours you have received, sabbatical leaves spent in other places, moves from one institution to another.
- Conferences. Announcements of upcoming conferences; reports of past conferences.
- Obituaries. Memorials of our members that will be dearly missed.
- Reviews of recent significant books.

Scholarly contributions¹

- Survey articles. These are exceptionally useful.
- Expository articles. Expositions concerning some particularly interesting biography, story, topic or problem.
- Presentations. Particularly useful presentations of known material for the classroom and innovative or elegant ways of obtaining known results.
- Problems. Short precise announcements of research problems that are inspirational.
- History. Articles on the history of combinatorics and related areas.

Peer-reviewed contributions²

- General interest combinatorial research articles.
- Articles concerning applications of combinatorics.

¹Lightly reviewed by editorial staff.

²Reviewed by several experts.

Instructions to authors

Submission of a manuscript to the Bulletin of The ICA implies that the authors comply with the Publication ethics and mal-practice statement, see

<http://bica.the-ica.org/BICA.php>

Please submit manuscript as a .pdf file via email to:

bica@the-ica.net

Manuscripts should be prepared in some form of TeX, preferably LaTeX or LaTeX2e. The page dimensions should be 4.5in by 7.125in and you should use 10pt computer modern font, which is the default font for LaTeX. For example this may be accomplished with the LaTeX file beginning

\documentclass{article}
\RequirePackage[
  twoside, centering, text={4.5in,7.125in},
  paperwidth=6in, paperheight=9in
]{geometry}
